3. Requirement to attend a Mediation Information and Assessment Meeting (MIAM)

Before making an application for a financial remedy you must first attend a Mediation Information and Assessment Meeting (MIAM). At the MIAM an authorised family mediator will consider with you (and the other party if present) whether family mediation, or another form of non-court dispute resolution, would be a more appropriate way for you to resolve the dispute. The mediator will also be able to signpost you to other help and support services.

You must have attended a MIAM before making this application unless the requirement to attend a MIAM does not apply because the financial order you are applying for:

- is for a consent order; or
- you are exempt from the requirement to attend a MIAM. Where evidence is required to support a MIAM exemption claim, you must submit this evidence alongside your application.

In special circumstances - such as where domestic abuse is involved - you may not need to attend a MIAM.

Where evidence is required to support a MIAM exemption claim, this evidence must be provided with your application. For examples of what evidence is acceptable, please refer to section 4, pages 6-8. When processing your application, the court will review the evidence provided to ensure that a MIAM exemption has been validly claimed.

All applicants must complete sections 1 and 2 and complete and sign section 6 of this form. In addition, you must tick one of the boxes below and ensure that you, your legal advisor, family mediator or NCDR professional completes (and where indicated signs) the relevant section(s) of this form as shown.

3a. Have you attended a MIAM?

Yes

No

If Yes, you must ensure that the family mediator signs section 5.

If No, please answer question 3b.

3b. Are you claiming exemption from the requirement to attend a MIAM?

Yes

No

If Yes, complete section 4.

If No, you cannot make this application to court. Please refer to <https://www.familymediationcouncil.org.uk/family-mediation/assessment-meeting-miam/> for further information on what to do next and how to arrange a MIAM.

4. Applicant claims exemption(s) from attendance at a Mediation Information and Assessment Meeting (MIAM)

To be completed by the person intending to make a court application or their legal representative. Where it is required, evidence of the claimed MIAM exemption(s) must be submitted to the court alongside this application.

If you are unable to provide the required evidence with your application, please use the text box on page 13 to explain the reason(s) why.

The applicant has not attended a MIAM because the following MIAM exemption(s) applies:

- Domestic abuse (you must complete section 4a)
- Urgency (you must complete section 4b)
- Previous attendance of a MIAM or non-court dispute resolution (you must complete section 4c)
- Other (you must complete section 4d)

Further details of MIAM exemption(s) claimed by the applicant

Now complete the relevant section 4a, b, c or d by ticking the appropriate box(es)

If you have claimed a MIAM exemption above you must also tick the relevant box(es), as shown below to confirm that you have the necessary evidence to support your ground(s) for exemption. Where required, you must submit this evidence with your application to court. Where you are asked to provide additional details you must do so.

2. Pages 1 to 3 set out the core information you need to provide if you wish to make an application to the court. You or your solicitor must also sign and date the Section 6 of this form.
3. If you are applying for an order by consent you should tick the box on page 1 to make this clear and attach the draft order with this application

Requirement to attend a Mediation, Information and Assessment Meeting

4. It is a legal requirement to attend a Mediation Information and Assessment Meeting (MIAM) before applying to the family court, unless a valid exemption applies. This means that before submitting your application, you (the applicant) must meet with an authorised family mediator to find out about options for resolving your dispute out of court. The other party (the respondent) is expected to attend either the same MIAM or a separate MIAM.
5. At the MIAM, a trained family mediator will give you (the applicant) and the other person if present (the respondent) information different options for non-court dispute resolution, such as mediation. They will consider with you whether non-court dispute resolution would be an appropriate way to resolve the dispute. It is then for the applicant and respondent to decide what to do next.
6. The requirement for the applicant to attend a MIAM does not apply if a financial order is being applied for and the other person (respondent) is in agreement about what you are asking the court to order (the order is a "consent order").
7. You or your solicitor must tick the relevant box in Section 3 of this form so that the court knows whether the MIAM requirement applies, whether an exemption applies (and why) or whether you have attended a MIAM.

MIAM exemptions and MIAM attendance

8. As the applicant you are expected to have contacted an authorised family mediator in order to make arrangements to attend a MIAM unless:
 - the MIAM requirement does not apply for the reason explained at paragraph 6 of these notes, or
 - you are claiming a MIAM exemption.
9. You can find an authorised family mediator by using the 'Find your local mediator' search facility available at: www.familymediationcouncil.org.uk
10. You should give the mediator the contact details of the other person so that the family mediator can contact them to invite them to attend a MIAM, either with you or separately.
11. If you or your solicitor believe that you have grounds for claiming exemption from MIAM attendance you or your solicitor must tick the relevant box in Section 3 of this form and complete Section 4.
12. If you have attended a MIAM you must ask the family mediator who conducted the MIAM to complete Section 5 of this form and sign it where shown.
13. If you claim a MIAM exemption and make an application to the court, the court will inquire into the grounds for exemption. For some MIAM exemptions, evidence is required to prove that your claim is valid. When claiming an exemption due to domestic abuse or due to prior attendance at a non-court dispute resolution process, you must provide evidence of this to the court along with this form.
14. If the court determines that any MIAM exemption(s) claimed are not valid, or no longer valid, you will be asked to attend a MIAM before your application is taken any further.
15. The detailed procedure relating to the MIAM requirement and MIAM exemptions and attendance is set out in Part 3 of the Family Procedure Rules and in supporting Practice Direction 3A. These are available online at: www.justice.gov.uk/courts/procedure-rules/family/practice_directions/pd_part_03a

Paying for MIAM attendance or for family mediation

16. Legal aid is available for MIAMs and for family mediation. If you are eligible for legal aid you could receive both the MIAM and mediation sessions free of charge, as well as some advice from a solicitor to support you in the mediation process.

17. If you, or the prospective respondent, is eligible for Legal Aid then the total cost of MIAM attendance can be met by the Legal Aid Agency, whether you and the prospective respondent attend the same MIAM or separate MIAMs.
18. If neither you nor the respective respondent is eligible for Legal Aid then the mediator will agree with you how the cost of MIAM attendance is to be met.
19. Please refer to paragraph 29 for further details on how you can find out whether you are eligible for Legal Aid by using the calculator tool available at www.gov.uk/legal-aid
25. A statutory Mediation Information and Assessment Meeting (MIAM) is reserved for “authorised mediators” under the Family Procedure Rules. “Authorised family mediator” means a person identified by the Family Mediation Council as qualified to conduct a MIAM. “Qualified to conduct a MIAM” is interpreted as holding current Family Mediation Council accreditation (FMCA). FMCA mediators are issued with a unique FMC registration number. This number should be entered by the authorised mediator in the box provided.
26. To find out more about different forms of NCDR, please go to <https://helpwithchildarrangements.service.justice.gov.uk/>.

Safety and MIAM attendance

20. Please note: the family mediator will discuss with you and with the other person whether you wish to attend the MIAM separately or together. Family mediators have a responsibility to ensure the safety and security of all concerned and will always check with each of you that attending together is your individual choice and is safe.

Information about mediation

21. If suitable, mediation can be a better way of resolving issues about financial arrangements when you or your partner petition/apply for a matrimonial or civil partnership order. Mediation can be less expensive than going to court and much less stressful for all the family.
22. Family Mediation is an impartial process that involves an independent third person who assists both parties involved in a family dispute to reach a resolution. Family mediation can be used to settle any or all of the following issues:
 - Financial arrangements and dividing up property
 - Arrangements for children
 - Any combination of these
 - Any other disputes to do with separation and divorce.
23. The family mediator helps the process of negotiation between the parties to agree their own arrangements by way of a Memorandum of Understanding. You can ask a solicitor, if you have one, to check the Memorandum of Understanding.
24. If both parties agree, you can ask the court to endorse what you have agreed by issuing a consent order. The mediator will help you to decide whether your case is complicated and does in fact need the court to consider your situation and make an order. The mediator should also tell you about other local services and options for resolving your dispute.

Further information and sources of help

27. General information about family mediation is available from the Family Mediation Council website at: www.familymediationcouncil.org.uk
28. The family mediator who undertakes the MIAM for you must be a member of a national mediation organisation which adheres to the Family Mediation Council’s Code of Conduct and the mediator must be authorised to conduct MIAMs. The service finder will help you find such a local mediator.
29. You can find out more about legal aid for family matters, including whether you may eligible for legal aid on the Legal Aid Information Service on the Gov. UK site at: www.gov.uk/check-legal-aid or you can telephone the Civil Legal Advice direct helpline 0345 345 4345.
